ALL requirements must be met before approval can be considered. Failure to provide complete information will delay the review process. Keep in mind, the more information you provide by the way of samples, pictures, brochures, etc. along with ALL the required information, will only aid the Board in making an informed decision. The more gray areas, the more chance there is for delays or disapproval. Clay County permitting/zoning requirements are separate and in addition to this application; applications for required building permits are not the responsibility of LALLOA. All improvements must comply with local, county and state governmental codes. Construction may not begin until approval has been obtained. Upon completion of the approved project, the homeowner shall submit to the LALLOA Board, evidence (such as photos or site plans) that sufficiently show the as-built configuration of the improvement.

Thank you for taking the time to present your application.
